RUN NO. 44 : NOBBY CLARK (and the case of the disappearing Pack)

One can be forgiven for mistaking the first part of this run for a hill climb. The stretch from the bottom of Kentucky Avenue to Virginia Primary School certainly had the pack panting. You can imagine our horror when the trail led up Margaret Maytom Avenue. Fortunately this was a false which had the effect of regrouping a fairly spread out pack.

I pause to mention the fate of Geoff Taylor. Once again Taylor headed off in the opposite direction from the start and was not seen again. He tells us that he spent the evening running around in ever decreasing circles but totally unable to find paper. The Durban Pack has a similar problem with one of their members. It has been suggested that Taylor and the said Durban Pack member known only as "Mountain Goat" should get together and form their own mini pack.

Back to the trail - from the bottom of Margaret Maytom, along Kensington Drive to McKeurtan. Our Hare was now living dangerously. A few of the hounds unable to contain themselves dashed down McKeurtan Avenue. The majority followed paper down Beachway but refused to believe that the trail led along Hoylake and away from the beer. At this stage most of the pack disappeared in the direction of home and those five remaining, who shall be mentioned as follows - G. Berg, L. Berg, Franco Buccimazza (welcome Franco), Eric Smith and Brian Orton - followed Nobby Clark on a tour of Durban North extending as far as Broadway and back home along Roehampton Way. By the time the famous five reached home the S.C.B.'s were in a state of shock because they could not get to the beer which was safely locked in the boot of Nobby's car.

There followed a bit of thrash at the Pizza Inn - thanks to Eric for negotiating rights of admission on our behalf and to Nobby for an excellent run.
